Rodney McNease, MA
Executive Director for Behavioral Health Finance
University of New Mexico Hospital
Albuquerque, NM

Rodney McNease has been involved in the New Mexico Behavioral Health Community for nearly 20 years. McNease oversees several areas of the Finance Division at UNM Hospitals in addition to his responsibilities related to Behavioral Health. In the past McNease served as the President of the New Mexico Behavioral Health Provider Association, and was a member of the New Mexico Behavioral Health Expert Panel on Medicaid Modernization in 2012. McNease currently serves as Chair of the New Mexico Hospital Association Centennial Care taskforce. McNease has been involved with numerous policy groups centered on behavioral health, and healthcare finance issues. McNease has also served as the President of the Board of the New Mexico Supportive Housing Coalition.

Dr. Caroline Bonham
Vice Chair of Community Behavioral Health
Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences
University of New Mexico Health Sciences Center
Albuquerque, NM

Dr. Bonham is a psychiatrist with an interest in access to care and developing community partnerships. She attended medical school at the University of Nottingham in the United Kingdom and completed a master's degree in healthcare research at the University of Michigan through the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Clinical Scholars Program. She has worked as a psychiatrist in the United Kingdom and rural Australia and has been on faculty at UNM since 2010. She oversees the Division of Community Behavioral Health which addresses health disparities among individuals with mental illness in New Mexico through community partnered research, clinical and educational initiatives. She also serves as the psychiatric consultant for the state of New Mexico's Behavioral Health Services Division. Clinically, Dr. Bonham provides direct care through the UNMH Assertive Community Treatment team and to rural communities through the UNM Telebehavioral Health program.