

United Jewish Communities

Organization Description: UJC promotes the interests and concerns of the United Jewish Communities, the umbrella organization that connects 155 local Jewish federations and 400 independent communities, to members of Congress and the Administration. UJC Washington works to ensure that the voice of the Jewish federations is a prominent force in health and human service policy decisions.

Proposal Description: UJC does not have a comprehensive health reform proposal. UJC lobbies to increase Medicaid funding for long-term care facilities. It also advocates on issues of concern to the Jewish federations, including prescription drug benefits for Jewish elderly, assistance to Jewish families at risk, and strengthening the capacity of the not-for-profit sector.
