

Public Access to Defibrillation (PADDP) Demonstration Projects

Office of Rural Health Policy, Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA)

<http://ruralhealth.hrsa.gov/funding/PAD.asp>

The intent of this grant program is to support projects that will increase public access to emergency medical devices and services. It is also meant to support grants to political subdivisions of States, Indian Tribes and Tribal organizations to develop and implement public access defibrillation projects.

DEADLINE: The deadline has passed. The due date was June 22, 2009. Guidance for the next competitive cycle is not yet available.

Eligibility	Funding	Requirements	Additional Information
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Eligible applicants include first responders and local for- and not-for-profit entities that include, but are not limited to: long-term care facilities, rural health clinics, Federally Qualified Health Centers, Indian Health Service clinics and tribal EMS services, post offices, libraries and other civic centers, athletic facilities (i.e., high school playing fields where a town may gather for games), senior citizen and child day care facilities, faith-based organizations and schools. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> In 2009, estimated funding was $650,000 for four awards. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Applications evaluated on how well the project: 1) demonstrates the greatest community need for services and programs 2) uses innovative, comprehensive, community-based public access to defibrillation 3) proposes an effective mechanism for the collection of data regarding resuscitation, defibrillation, and survival rates within the setting served by the project. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> To view the 2009 announcement, click here: https://grants.hrsa.gov/webExternal/SFO.asp?ID=F78D5F33-ABFD-4C02-A0F7-BDE8029355C4

