

Rural Access to Emergency Devices (RAED) Grant Program

Office of Rural Health Policy, Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA)

<http://ruralhealth.hrsa.gov/funding/aed.htm>

The Office of Rural Health Policy's Rural Access to Emergency Devices (RAED) Grant Program provides funding to rural communities to purchase automated external defibrillators (AEDs) and provide training in their use and maintenance.

DEADLINE: The deadline has passed. The due date was February 4, 2009. Guidance for the next competitive cycle is not yet available.

Eligibility	Funding	Requirements	Additional Information
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Must be community partnership (defined as a consortium of first responders (e.g., EMS, law enforcement and fire departments) and local for and non-profit entities that may include, but are not limited to, long-term care facilities, rural health clinics, community health centers, post offices, libraries and other civic centers, athletic facilities, senior citizen and day care facilities, faith-based organizations and schools without AEDs 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Funding preference is given to those community partnerships that are State-wide in scope. • Three awards are normally anticipated for total funding of $310,000. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Only those community partnerships that are located in or that serve areas that are eligible for Rural Health grants may apply for RAED Grants. For information on what areas are eligible for RAED Grants, click here. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eligible applicants should contact their state rural health association for more information. • Applications were due February 4, 2009. • More information can be found on the HRSA website here. • For more information on the general program, contact ruralems@hrsa.gov or Sheila Warren, Office of Rural Health Policy, HRSA, at 301-443-0835.

