

GIVE US YOUR COMMENTS AND IDEAS

Learning from Each Other: Success Stories and Ideas for Restraint/Seclusion Reduction in Behavioral Health is meant to be a work in progress.

We welcome your comments on the suggestions offered in this edition, and we invite you to send us your additional ideas on strategies that can reduce the use of restraint and seclusion.

Please e-mail your ideas to clinserv@naphs.org. All suggestions will be shared with the sponsoring organizations (APA, APNA, NAPHS, and AHA) for possible inclusion in future updates.
