I wanted to pass along a big thank you to the community care program and those who are responsible for this.

Friday my dad was told his lymphoma was in complete remission, and I know that financially we could not have been able to afford the payments for him to receive the treatments. He is going to continue with a maintenance plan to try and keep it in remission.

The last seven months have been a challenge for him with my mom passing away in September unexpectedly, so I just wanted to share on behalf of my family how much we appreciate this program and the opportunity it has given my father, another chance to live his life to the fullest.

No words can explain how much we appreciate it.
