On behalf of the American Hospital Association Section for Psychiatric and Substance Abuse Services, I invite you to join a small group of your executive colleagues for a webinar and discussion on a community partnership of hospital, city and health & human services leaders working to improve the health of their community – and starting first with the challenges of addiction and substance abuse.

Mary Prybylo, president and CEO of St. Joseph Healthcare in Bangor, ME will describe Greater Bangor's Community Health Leadership Board including:

- Which organizations participate, and the driving force which created the board
- The role of hospitals on the Board, and who leads the initiatives
- The impact of their work to reduce the impact of addiction and substance abuse
- What data the members share, and how the initiatives are funded.
- Why such partnerships are an effective investment for hospitals
- How the program's successes are measured.

After her remarks there will be time for you to talk with Mary in detail about the program as well as your own community partnership work.
