

BIOS

Cynthia A. Kelleher, President and CEO, University of Maryland Rehabilitation & Orthopaedic Institute'. She has served as interim president and CEO of the University of Maryland Rehabilitation & Orthopaedic Institute since 2013. She also serves the rehabilitation hospital as well as the system's clinical rehabilitation network of 12 hospitals as senior director of business development and marketing. Previously, Ms. Kelleher spent two years as a research public health analyst at RTI International in Washington, DC, and before that, she served HealthSouth Corp. in Birmingham, Alabama, as vice president of corporate development for four years.

Ms. Kelleher serves on the board of the Friends of the National Library of Medicine, and she co-chaired the annual educational conference for the organization in 2010. She has also been part of the Maryland Health Care Commission Task Force Inpatient Rehabilitation Chapter, the State of Washington State Health Plan Revisions, and the Commonwealth of Virginia State Health Plan Inpatient Rehabilitation Chapter.

A graduate of the University of Maryland, Ms. Kelleher received her MBA from the University of Baltimore and her master's degree in public health from Johns Hopkins University.

Birdsina Lynn Williams, Manager of Security & Telecommunications Services, University of Maryland Rehabilitation & Orthopaedic Institute. She has 25 years of education and experience and has absorbed hundreds of hours of specialized training. She is an expert in the field of security management, crime and loss prevention, investigations and liability. Throughout her career, she has developed cost effective strategies and security programs for University of Maryland Rehabilitation & Orthopaedic Institute.

Birdsina (Lynn) Williams has performed premises security risk assessments and provided practical solutions for the hospital. She has testified as a security expert witness in litigation matters involving allegations of loss prevention from the hospital. She has investigated thefts, allege assaults and burglaries. She has interviewed witness and subjects and prepared detail reports.
