Paige Bingham is a Director at Allina Health and leads the development and dissemination of LifeCourse, an innovative solution caring for people later in life. In 2017, Allina Health—LifeCourse received a “Circle of Life Citation of Honor” from the American Hospital Association as a model of inspiration in advanced care. Before joining Allina Health, Paige held senior management positions at Medtronic and Deloitte. She has a MBA from The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, a CPA (inactive), and a BA from Claremont McKenna College.

Jill Henly is the Manager of Care Management at Courage Kenny Rehabilitation Institute. Jill has 30 years of care management experience with 15 years in leadership. Through that experience Jill became passionate about data solutions that improve the health care delivery system. In her current role, Jill is developing population health models for care coordination to help individuals navigate the continuum of services available across the Courage Kenny Rehabilitation Institute and broader Allina Health.
